BIOGRAPHY

Carl Honoré is a London-based writer, broadcaster and voice of the Slow Movement. His bestselling books have been published in 35 languages. His two main-stage TED Talk have racked up million of views.

Carl's second book, Under Pressure, explores how to raise and educate children in a fast world and was hailed by Time as a "gospel of the Slow Parenting movement."

Carl presented a television show called Frantic Family Rescue on Australia's ABC 1. He sits on the board of a K-18 school in New York City.

Carl speaks to teachers, parents and pupils all over the world. Whether online or in-person, his keynotes and workshops are dynamic, inspiring, informative and full of humour.

His message is simple, counterintuitive and game-changing: to thrive in a fast world, you have to slow down.

Both of Carl's children are now studying at university.

TWO KEYNOTE

1. SLOW PARENTING: Raising Children in a Fast World

Childhood has become a race to perfection, which harms children and everyone connected with them. But now change is coming. Everywhere, and especially since the pandemic, people are seeking to give children the time and space to explore the world on their own terms, take reasonable risks, play freely. To slow down and be children again. Touching on themes ranging from technology and extracurricular activities to schooling and safety, Carl explores how to strike the right balance between doing too much and doing too little for children. He shows how slowing down can help families thrive in a fast world.

2. SLOW EDUCATION: Teaching Children in a Fast World

When every moment is a race against the clock, everything suffers - from well-being and relationships to creativity and learning. This is true for both teachers and pupils.

Using inspiring examples from around the world, Carl shows how slowing down can supercharge a school. By building resilience, social skills and emotional intelligence. By boosting analysis, learning and debate. By unleashing a creativity revolution.

Carl offers workshops to go along with this keynote. In these, he helps teachers identify where the pressure to rush is coming from – and how to resist it. He shares practical steps for slowing down school life and bringing everyone (staff, parents, pupils) along with the change.

TESTIMONIALS

"Carl Honoré was a brilliant speaker at our school district's virtual conference for teachers, administrators and support staff. He delivered a keynote and workshops on building resilience, emotional intelligence, social skills, and creativity. Carl was the perfect speaker to help our community learn about Slow education in a fast world - it was life changing!"

"Carl spent a morning working with our teachers and support staff ahead of what promises to be another busy school year. He took the time to talk to us, finding out more about the school and then, by combination of evidence, anecdote, personal experience and humour, he engaged, stimulated, inspired and challenged the team. There was lots of sharing of ideas and a good deal of conversation after Carl had left. It was a great place from which to start the year – more schools should think about how ‘slow’ can help them feel better, be more productive and ultimately happier. I would highly recommend Carl as a speaker at inset or for parents."

“Carl is a terrifically engaging public speaker who displays the enviable qualities of commitment, passion and preparation to his endeavours. He has an amazing ability to captivate his audience;

boys, parents and staff were effusive in their praise of Carl. It also helps, of course, that he is a thoroughly decent bloke.”

“How can we ever thank you for an informative and inspiring two days at Hewitt? I wish you could see my inbox right now (actually, you don't want to see it, because it's the opposite of slow). It's full of thank you messages from parents thanking me and saying that they are going to buy your books and continue thinking and reading about slow parenting. Thank you, thank you, thank you.”

"We were elated to have Carl Honoré as our keynote speaker at our first virtual Inspiring Early Learning Conference. This past year has been one of uncertainty and change as we have navigated the global pandemic.

Educators have been asked to work in new ways with children and families. Carl's messages about taking time to slow down and be in the moment were so timely. He gave our community so much 'food for thought' about how the cult of speed is impacting our lives and ways to consider how we might rethink some of our practices. We found the strategies he shared about supporting children to slow down, have quiet time and be in nature, validated our shifting practice as we learned lessons from this past year. We valued his knowledge, research, and humour and will bring forward his messages into future communities of practice. Thank-you Carl, it was a pleasure working with you!"

“Carl’s talk was exactly what we needed to hear. His blend of personal humor and fact-filled research on trends in parenting was helpful in reinforcing our school’s message about the need for free play and healthy rhythms for children. Parents feel pressure to create these perfect little beings. Carl's warmth made us all relax and enjoy his timely message."

"Carl recently addressed a group of parents at Blundell's School. He is an immensely engaging speaker and his message resonated strongly with our community. The 'Slow' concept is simple and accessible but the practical challenges are considerable – but Carl's talk really did leave people feeling like the challenge wasn't an insurmountable one and that it was well worth the effort, individually and corporately. He provoked much meaningful discussion and debate and at times evoked a strong emotional response. Carl is clearly an experienced and clever speaker and he quickly found traction with his audience through his humorous and self-effacing stories. The only question we have left is when we might be able to get him back again!"

“Our children need more opportunities to play, be physically active and participate in sport without pressure to please the significant others in their lives; this was the theme of our International Physical Literacy Conference. We contracted Carl to provide an opening and closing keynote while attending sessions from the conference. Carl's opening keynote reminded us about the dangers of living life in the fast lane and identified the many losses we suffer from these fast choices. For his closing keynote, Carl infused his reflections and insights from the conference then capped it off with a few recipes to inject some “slow” into one’s life. It was a spectacular and passionate finish to our conference! Carl was totally engaged and engaging; he joined in many conversations across the conference and was always accessible for questions and comments. Carl’s delivery is personal and very welcoming. He tells very funny stories about his own “speedaholic” life but the stories are also filled with lessons to be learned. Our delegates were thrilled that Carl was with us for the entire conference! He was a perfect fit for our conference; his presence enhanced the outcome for all who attended!”

“Many children, and parents, are over-programmed and exhausted. Slow fixes are better able to deliver longer lasting ways of addressing some of the complex problems our children face today. Carl Honoré is an engaging and knowledgeable speaker, giving parents the confidence to know that they have choices.”

“Carl is a very engaging and eloquent speaker. He mixes personal anecdotes with academic research and is clearly passionate about his subject. During his time at our school he stimulated debate and questions amongst a hall full of parents who wanted more long after the session had been scheduled to finish, thoughtfully and honestly answered questions posed by a small group of parents the following morning and completely engaged a group of Upper School students who were quite willing to miss their break to continue their discussion and debate with him.”

"Online keynotes can be tough, but Carl's story, anecdotes and personality held our audience of business owners on the other side of the world captive for a full 90- minutes, and they wanted more. A world- class keynote presenter with a message everybody in the world with a pulse needs to hear. Book Carl for your next online event, it's a guaranteed win."
